

Orion's Reign, Oldead

I throw my red sword into the thirsty ground
Sit down under a tree and start to sing
All the colours of the world sing melodies in my head
And as the melodies fade out I realize I'm dead

{Bridge}

And I whisper my last breath to the wind
And the time stands still for the world to see

{Chorus}

Love is all around me, in the living and dead
In our golden temple she is worshipped and bred
As I'm falling down my body broken and bled
Love is all around me and my spirit has fled

Our life a journey into this world
Travel through time in the cloak of flesh
Brave deeds of painful sacrifice
Woven with golden thread on a guess

Knowledge neglected when I was one
Now I see clearly that this is why
If I could live once again in flesh
I'd never yield to oblivion

{Chorus}

Love is all around me, in the living and dead
In our golden temple she is worshipped and bred
As I'm falling down my body broken and bled
Love is all around me and my spirit has fled

...life burns away
And truth shines on me!!!
