

Os101, Rebuilt

Back again among some friends heh now how do you do.
Has it been very long time really flew.
Out that door and back to her other songs that we knew.
Forget them all cause its quite clear we're starting new.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
Yep I burned the picture wiped away your face.
See everything different in the same place.
Not making any decisions on stance of the past.
Only want what's true to be cause only truth will last.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
Don't you see that there's much more than what's outside your door.
The trick is to look and find.
Cause everything is possible and obtainable.
You just gotta try.
It just takes setting aside what you need to get Yourself there
Don't you see that there's much more than what's outside your door.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
We're built to last we're built to last we're built to last.
