

Our Lady Peace, Under Zenith

maybe they'll come back again maybe they're all gone one day you'll find me sending their message strong under your feet the city falls down so far the ground is sky we're under zenith again, it's healthy if not for long leave a little room for us to breathe much more than seven days and you've slipped to deep much stronger than sympathy, let your best friend pull back that leash sitting by a frozen man, someone somewhere has to cry were under zenith again let the cycle run we won't die leave a little room for us to breathe

I love how you let me fall under but not to far
only now I see where we are hold me
