

Out of Eden, Confused

Right now I think it's time it be known
Just how I feel about you Father, Savior
I'm sure that you see what's in my heart
But just vision's not enough I've got to tell you
More than tell you, anyone can say the words
I want to be the one to show you how I feel
You're too much, more that I could know
Just my way to say, I can't let go of you

Chorus:

I can't let go of you
No matter what the world may tell you
I can't let go of you
No matter what the world may tell you
Right now you are all that I am
It's not I, but it's you that liveth in me
Where would I be, if you ever were to go
But I know that you'll never leave me nor forsake me
You've brought me, into so much light
You've kept me safe even at times I left your side
What would I do, if I weren't saved by you
Can't even imagine that's why I can't let go of you
