

Out of Eden, Different Now

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I've changed somehow
You might think it's strange the way I hold it down
But I know (I know you want it),
and you know (I know you know) I got what you need
My life is different now,
Look at you & I can see you're wonderin how
Though you think it's strange the way I hold it down
Know I know, (I know you want it) & i know (I know you know)
I got what you need

Saw me drivin by just the other day,
I was ridin in my car & my hands were raised
By the way that I was rockin
You thought I was bumpin biggie and jay
But I was steady spinnin faith cause I could praise for days
You hollared at me I was at the light,
Said I was looking fly & asked what's up tonite
I said i know you used to see me at the clubs til three
But I don't kick it like I did cause there's a change in me

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I've changed somehow
You might think it's strange the way I hold it down
But I know (I know you want it),
and you know (I know you know) I got what you need
My life is different now,
Look at you & I can see you're wonderin how
Though you think it's strange the way I hold it down
Know I know, (I know you want it) & i know (I know you know)
I got what you need

Some of my girls I hadn't seen in a while Saw them at the mall and we traded hugs and a smile
They said we hear you're doing well you seem so confident
I told them that it wasn't me but it is heaven sent
I saw confusion in there eyes,
Said i'm living fine no compromise
I don't talk I don't dress like I did before
But if you give me just a second I will tell you more

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I've changed somehow
You might think it's strange the way I hold it down
But I know (I know you want it),
and you know (I know you know) I got what you need
My life is different now,
Look at you & I can see you're wonderin how
Though you think it's strange the way I hold it down
Know I know, (I know you want it) & i know (I know you know)
I got what you need

I am not the same, God has changed the game
Found that it's okay, I don't have to live that way
I am not the same, God has changed the game
You know it's okay, you don't have to live that way

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I changed some how,
you like the way I hold it down,
But, I got what you need

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I've changed somehow

You might think it's strange the way I hold it down
But I know (I know you want it),
and you know (I know you know) I got what you need
My life is different now,
Look at you & I can see you're wonderin how
Though you think it's strange the way I hold it down
Know I know, (I know you want it) & i know (I know you know)
I got what you need

Everything is different now,
Look at me and you can see I've changed somehow
You might think it's strange the way I hold it down
But I know (I know you want it),
and you know (I know you know) I got what you need
