Out Of Season, Mysteries

God knows how I adore life When the wind turns on the shores lies another day I cannot ask for more

When the time bell blows my heart And I have scored a better day Well nobody made this war of mine

And the moments that I enjoy A place of love and mystery I'll be there anytime

Oh mysteries of love Where war is no more I'll be there anytime

When the time bell blows my heart And I have scored a better day Well nobody made this war of mine

And the moments that I enjoy A place of love and mystery I'll be there anytime

Mysteries of love Where war is no more I'll be there anytime
