

Oval Opus, No Compromise

No compromises in my mind, Gonna give it all or nothing
Goin' back to the place where I was born... yeah
To find what I have forgotten

For so long I tried to let my dreams go
I left them standing in the shadows, without trying to find the answers... oh no
For so long I tried to lose myself by running and hiding with the bottle, that I couldn't see the sunrise... oh no

I'm gonna change my life, I'm gonna make the things that should be right
I've forgotten what my purpose is for
Betrayed by my own animosity, I'm blinded by my own hypocrisy
With confusions of the thing that I hoped for

The thought filled hours always come at night as I lay there staring at the wall
My mind is wondering where I'm goin
And if my dreams can truly touch them all

For so long I've waited for this moment, To embrace it and enjoy it
Now I finally found my place in this world
For so long despite all oppositions, I am ready and committed to release my cage and finally free my soul

I'm gonna change my life, I'm gonna make the things that should be right
I've forgotten what my purpose is for
Betrayed by my own animosity, I'm blinded by my own hypocrisy
With confusions of the things that I hope for...
