

Over It, Skipping Stones

He's just a little boy lost inside his little world.

Will he find his way back home?

He's just a little boy, lost his mind over a girl.

Will she call him on the phone?

If I told you how I cared would you be so scared that you would turn your head away?

If I told you this was real would you believe in how I feel so that I can make it through the day.
