

Over It, Truth Is

Let it roll.
Run like a miracle.
We knew right from the start.
The side of me you keep uncovering is still numb from the fun so I let it go.

Sorry if I'm ever short of faith
I only like to work on holidays.

Truth is I've never felt more alive.
I still doubt that it's real.
Well aware
it might be fantasy,
but I'm a pure romantic,
one habit I cannot kick.

I'm glad we took the chance to keep it real.
I feel like we could do it all again anytime.

Glad I've had some friends to come and go,
But there's no way to know which ones you'll wish you'd had around all along.

Let it roll.
Run like a miracle.
We knew right from the start.
Heard you say "simple is everything"
And now I am quite sure that I like where this is going.

Did I mention thanks for everything?
Even if it's chill and we don't need to say a thing.

Truth is I knew from the start.
Truth is I knew from the start.
