

Overhead, Out Of Your Sleep

If I could turn bak the hands of time
I'd come running to you.
To tell you what love can bring
To counter everything they told you.

If I managed to understand you
I'd come running to you,
To tell you what life can bring
To counter everything they stole from you.

I'll lead myself out of my fears
To keep you out of your sleep

I'll lead myself out of my fears
To keep you out of your sleep
