

Overkill, Death Comes Out To Play

When the hand of fate will slap you
All has gone array no more bargains
Death comes out to play
With a loss of vision control
All has gone away no more compromise
Death comes out to play
In the darkened boneyard
Aint no other way
I will be your captain
When death comes out to play
When the hand of fate will drop you
You have gone astray no more worries
Death came out to play
Dear departed he was so damn good
That the angels knew his name
He was a giving man a light in the dark
He was sunshine in the rain
Smokin' - Here we go on one last ride
Burnin'- I will be your captain

[CH]

When you're alone and you're chilled to the bone
The revolution knows your name
When you're alone and you feel so at home
Death comes out to play
Dear departed he was so damn bad
That the demons ruled his game
He was a selfish man the devils spark
The hatred and the pain
Smokin' - When he goes on one last ride
Burnin' - I will be his captain

[CH]

[BR]

Walk through the valley naked
Be not afraid
Be not afraid
The hand of fate has dropped you
Be not afraid
