

OverSoul, Games

I know a game that will set you free
So undo yourself and just be
It will all come naturally
This game insanity

Open your mind
Make the connection
What are you waiting for
Played out procrastination

Be at one with your heart
In the mirror is where it starts
The future could be so endless
Whats so hard to understand

Let your conscience be your guide
Pass over those who have lied
Make your world clear
Stand up to your fear

It won't be an easy thing to do
Make and create your own rules
Only you can decide what is best
Now put your life to the test

In the end what matters is
What you decide
Let the genie out of the Bottle inside

Realize the potential in you and me
This game, reality
