

Oxford Drama, Oxford Drama (raw mix)

I'm the one to blame
going to sleep
with dreamy guilt
you say the next day, it will go away

I'm the one to blame
acting a bit of oxford drama

you know it's like a bad habit and I will always come back home you don't even have to wait very long or convince me that I'm wrong and after a while of not seeing your smile the body shivers and the ground beneath my feet shatters

the distance is getting wider heartbreak and solitude please don't let me never forget me anymore
