

Ozark Henry, love is free to interfere

Loss is a journey heading for gold it's surfing the sunset
it's drinking my soul
-is there a god?
-o god, i don't know
would you care for peace
if you're hungry and cold?

There's not a single thing left to say
I know she knows I know that there's not a single thing that can touch this
I know she knows I know that

Love is free to interfere

Whatever determines what's bogging us down let your eyes do the walking and walk over mine
-Is there a god?
-O god, and if so
Would you care for peace
if you're hungry and cold?

Love is free to interfere

I know she knows I know that
and there's not a single thing that can touch this
I know she knows I know that

I know she knows there's only you
