

Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Giving It All To The Wind

(FIDDLE INTRO)

have you ever felt yourself in a place a little strange where nothin' seemed the way it should be and every time you'd set your sight and take an aim things would change, move out of range have you stood in the sunshine and seen darkness everywhere have you looked for a seashell on a street has it made much difference that you've never had to share you've just given,

given it all to the wind
you've just given,
given it all to the wind

(FIDDLE SOLO)

when you finally find yourself in the middle of a dream and the vision slowly slips away it's hard to hold yourself in the middle of a stream you just give in,
giving it all to the wind
you just give in,
giving it all to the wind

(FIDDLE SOLO)

Lyrics are copyright 1977, Larry Lee