

Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Watermill

(KEYBOARDS INTRO)

where the snow melts
and the shadows bend
weeping willows dance
and the sea swells
at the river's end
calling in the trance

and our eyes meet while the watermill
turns the stubborn stream
and my life breaks on the waterwheel
into a dream

when the light fades
and the wind is still hear the cricket's rhyme
and the cascades
of the river spill
falling out of time

and our eyes meet while the watermill
turns the stubborn stream
and my life breaks on the waterwheel
into a dream

(ELECTRIC GUITARS SOLO)

(HARP SOLO)

so the earth turns
like a paddlewheel
secret still in spin
and the sun burns
on a golden field

where you've always been

and our eyes meet while the watermill

turns the stubborn stream

and my life breaks on the waterwheel

into a dream

(SAX SOLO)

Lyrics are copyright 1976, Steve Cash & John Dillon