

Ozma, Rocks

I've been looking for a way to find a way to find you Turning over every unturned stone
I thought everyone was flipped but I guess eagle rock got skipped Cause that's where you've been all along alone

whoa

I've been tryin' to find a way to finally up and find you climbing every boulder in my way to throw me off your trail you moved to Boulder, Colorado a hop, a skip, and one long jump away

I finally found a way to find a way to finally find you down where Colorado street meets hill pick a rock and throw it way across the Rocky Mountains and pray to God it hits your window sill

I will never skip a rock (I will never skip a rock)
I will never skip a rock again
I will never skip a rock (I will never skip a rock)
I will never skip a rock again
