

Pale Forest, Spiral

The hour of souls is the night by your side the whisper of angels, your breath I sleep behind the moon with your slender hand in mine

The ceiling is gone
above me spins the spiral shaft spinning round and round

The first day of spring is the light in your eyes the core of the fire, your voice I walk on the surface of the sun
with your slender hand in mine

spinning round and round
above me spins the spiral shaft
