

Pam Tillis, Mental Revenge

MENTAL REVENGE

(Mel Tillis)

'66 Cedarwood Publishing

I hope that the friend you've thrown yourself with gets drunk and loses her job
And ever road you're walking on gets cold rocky and hard
I couldn't make you love me you only made me blue
So all in all if the curtain should fall I hope that it falls on you
I hope that it falls on you
Well I hope that the train from Caribou Maine runs over your new love affair
You walk the floor from door to door and pull out your peroxide hair
I never was your woman cause you were never true
So all in all if the curtain should fall I hope that it falls on you
And I'll have sweet sweet sweet mental revenge
I'll have sweet sweet sweet mental revenge oh yeah
I never was your woman cause you were never true
So all in all if the curtain should fall I hope that it falls on you
And I'll have sweet sweet sweet mental revenge
I'll have sweet sweet sweet mental revenge
I'll have sweet sweet sweet mental revenge oh yeah