

Pam Tillis, Tryin'

In a cloud of dust
on a greyhound bus
she crossed the cook county line.
Slept all the way to nashville big dreams running through her mind.
She said sure as Im breathing
I'm gonna be a big star some day
She was jumping into the deep end on a leap of sweet blind faith.

Chorus

It's about hoping It's about dreaming
It's about never not- believeing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
and never looking down.
It's about living instead of dying
It's about spreading your wings and flying
Its all about trying
oh yeah

It's been six years gone since she left home
and she hasn't made it big yet.
Oh but theres no second guessing baby, she's got no regrets.
She still works the late shift down at the Greasy Spoon Cafe and when she brings you out your milkshake Honey, well you just might hear her say...

(Chorus)

It's about hoping It's about dreaming
It's about never not- believeing
It's about taking a walk out on the wire
and never looking down.
It's about living instead of dying
It's about spreading your wings and flying
Its all about trying
oh yeah

It's not wheather you win or lose its getting in the game
once you set your wings in motion well you'll never be the same
