

Paolo Nutini, No No No

Oh you know where you are heading
But you're lost along the way
And the strangers that you see are getting stranger everyday
And the blood continues flowing
But the brain, the brain slowly drifts away

You crashed into this city
With a smile upon your face
And a body charged with music
From the earphones in your case
And the pressure keeps on growing
But paradise, paradise is on it's way
And I say

No no no
we may never know
There's enough surprises here to keep us going
Yeah yeah yeah
Here's another day
We're gonna step outside and take it all in

Well you're looking for some action
As a hunter, you're on fire
There's some scary confrontation
But never look them in the eye
There are miles and miles of pleasures
To be had so, no, don't be shy
(Never be shy)

Now you're drowning in your coffee
You're living life so fast
One eye is staying golden
While the other's seeing black
And the blood continues rushing
And you realise what's here to be had
And I say

No no no
we may never know
There's enough surprises here to keep us going
Yeah yeah yeah
Here's another day
We're gonna step outside and take it all in

No no no
we may never know
There's enough surprises here to keep us going
Yeah yeah yeah
Here's another day
We're gonna step outside and take it all in
