

Paradise Lost, Slave

into what should not be done, into what was left undone the way you fall onto your knees into what should not be done, into what was left undone revealing the fortune from your pleas but I can't take it back, cos his soul keeps searching for more but I can't take it back, any soul would cry out for more but I can't take it back, no way no more
