Paramore, Let The Flames Begin (Live)

What a shame we all became such fragile, broken things A memory remains, just a tiny spark I give it all my oxygen So let the flames begin So let the flames begin

Oh, glory Oh, glory This is how we'll dance when When they try to take us down This is what will be, oh glory

Somewhere weakness is our strength And I'll die searching for it I can't let myself regret, such selfishness My pain and all the trouble caused No matter how long I believe that there's hope Buried beneath it all and Hiding beneath it all and Growing beneath it all and

This is how we'll dance when When they try to take us down This is how we'll sing it This is how we'll stand when When they burn our houses down This is what will be, oh glory

Reaching as I sink down into light Reaching as I sink down into light

This is how we'll dance when When they try to take us down This is how we'll sing it This is how we'll stand when When they burn our houses down This is what will be, oh glory

Father, oh Father, oh Father Father, I am ready won't you let it begin cause I am here now I want to dance in the mighty palm of your hand
