

Paria, Dancing to the Sounds of Screams

I look up at the sky and see heaven falling
The stars I once wished upon to bring new life now die
The death of all deaths
Ending the happiness and the sadness of a life stricken by emptiness
No longer able to be filled
Comets crash to the ground leaving a crater inside
And a void torn out by demon's hands
All hopes and dreams thrown to the ground and spit upon
It had to be done and someone had to do it
Is all that can be said now
Why is the world caving in on itself?
Lies and deceit shot overhead
Without ever a sound heard
A moment's heartache can be so easily forgotten
But for you
This is the end
Angels with guns
This is the end
