

Pat Boone, If Dreams Came True

(Words by Al Stillman and Music by Robert Allen)

Oh my darling, oh my lover

If dreams came true, dear
I'd dream you everything
That you would always
Be happy as a king

If dreams came true, dear
No trouble would you see
Just song and laughter
To keep you company

Oh my darling
Oh my lover
In your heart
You would soon discover
Song and laughter
Ever after
From the dreaming I'd do
If dreams came true

If dreams came true, dear
I'd dream you paradise
A moonlit garden
And stars to match your eyes

But as for me, dear
My world is all a gleam
For I have you, dear
And have no need to dream

Oh my darling
Oh my lover
In your arms
Is where I discover
More than moonlight
More than starlight
More than dreaming could do
If dreams came true
