

Pat Green, Don't Break My Heart

Well, she was standin' there at the edge of outta control.
Hair wild and her eyes filled with the pain.
She took her heart on a string and tied it to a red balloon.
And she watched it fly up high into the clouds.

Don't break my heart again, we're one an' the same.
Baptized by tears, an' washed in the blame.
You can let your heart go, but I will hunt you down.
Your love is all I want to win: don't break my heart again.

He dreams of a girl with her heart tied to a red balloon.
He wants her so bad; she wants him too.
They're standin' at the edge of another lonely night.
House empty and the walls are cavin' in.

Don't break my heart again, we're one an' the same.
Baptized by tears, an' washed in the blame.
Well, you can let your heart go, but I will hunt you down.
Your love is all I wanna win so don't break my heart again.

It's hard to find love.
It's hard to find love.
It's hard to find love.
It's hard to find love.

Don't break my heart again, we're one an' the same.
Baptized by tears, an' washed in the blame.
You can let your heart go, but I will hunt it down.
Your love is all I wanna win so don't break my heart again.

Hard to find love, but I will hunt it down.
Your love is all I want to win: don't break my heart again.