

Pat Green, Eden's Gate

She holds the key to Eden's Gate Somewhere deep inside
When she gives to me her patience
And a hundred smiles none the same

Her eyes are the ocean i am drowning constantly i am lucky just to linger in the corners of her scene

Chorus
I am lost inside the walls of Eden
Don't you ever set me free
i am lost inside the walls of Eden
I'll never go back, no i'll never go back again

Outside the world's a bastard
The son whose father never cared It keeps on raging like some crazy storm but not in here

Chorus
I am lost inside the walls of Eden
Don't you ever set me free
i am lost inside the walls of Eden
I'll never go back, no i'll never go back again

All it cost me was my whole life all it gives me is everything a love like fire, the taste of skin the feeling of falling again and again it's a long drink from a cool well it's everything, baby it's everything, baby, it's eveything

I am lost inside the walls of Eden
don't you ever set me free

Repeat Chorus
I am lost inside the walls of Eden
Don't you ever set me free
i am lost inside the walls of Eden
I'll never go back, no i'll never go back again
