

Patty Loveless, Lookin' For A Heartache Like You

(Jim Lauderdale/Buddy Miller/Julie Miller)

Here I go again, got myself in trouble.
Baby, I need help, so get here on the double.
You must be the one, to show me signs so subtle.
I think you oughtta spend more time inside my bubble.
Lookin' for a heartache like you;
I been lookin' for a heartache like you.

Here's to everyone from Maine to Madagascar,
Findin' what you want, gettin' what you're after.
When I first saw you, had the heart a stoppin'.
Knocked me on down to the feet of my pyjamas.
Lookin' for a heartache like you;
I been lookin' for a heartache like you.

What's a face like yours to kiss?
Do it in place like this.
Even though I run the risk,
Of losin' you by sayin' all of these things.

What's a face like yours to kiss?
Do it in place like this.
Even though I run the risk,
Of losin' you by sayin' all of these things.
Ay, ay, yeah.

I'll join up if you're recruitin'.
We can ramble on if the weather's suitin'.
Circle to the left, go out a-swingin'.
Somethin' inside of me can't stop singin'.
Lookin' for a heartache like you;
I've been lookin' for a heartache like you.

Lookin' for a heartache like you;
I've been lookin' for a heartache like you.

Lookin' for a heartache.
Mm mmm.

Lookin' for a heartache.
Mm mmm.
