

Paul King, I know

What do I know that you would love to hear turn your head around take a chance again what do I know about dirt and possession sex and revolution, pain and confession what do I know about who should decide I see right and wrong I also see two sides what do I know about the meaning of heartache if I hurt I hurt and if I break I break I know about this lovin' thing I know that a heart can sing I know about true devotion honest expression real emotion
I know I don't know everything but I know there's a way to win 'cos I know the simple old solution some give, some take that's the way it is What do I know about frustration and sin fanatics and bombs, crack or anything what do I know about who should decide I see right and wrong, I also see two sides what do I know there's a world on my shoulder tell me does it show
what do I know about the meaning of heartache
if I hurt I hurt and if I break I break Total recall, your face on my pillow case touch sensitive fingers that brush you and linger 'til the light goes on and then ou're gone
