

Pedestrian, Come Down After

We've been there once, once before
I still remember
The empty place, dusty floor
The broken mirror
We wrote our names behind the door
To live forever
Wake me up before you go

Bow my head down to the ghosts
I still remember
They burned out well but still won't go
Until December
With frozen hands begin to slow
And stop forever
When we are done and say goodbye

Rest your head on me tonight
And sleep forever
Once the sun sets in your eyes
I'll come down after
Oh, wake me up before you go
'Cause I won't live this anymore
