

Pedestrian, Overwhelmed

i feel simple, i feel lost i feel heavy with all the above i want to get away, i've got to get away one more blow will do me in so i hide beneath this skin it's so much safer here, it must be safer here in the darkest parts of me where i tend to find my peace it's not much better here, it can't be better here is it easier on you when i pretend that i am through we build our walls again, i've built our walls again sometimes love feels this free sometimes love disagrees i'll take what i can get, i take what i can get oh ,we get so overwhelmed by
