

Pennywise, No Reason Why

I look at my self the person in the mirror is asking me asking me why I lie to myself what's the meaning of this charade or the reason why cause no one knows me quite better than I know myself but that doesn't stop me from asking myself the reason why no reason why we lie to ourselves or anyone else I look inside my life cause I can see the things that no one else can see about the real me cause it's only the outside you really see so don't ask me why I keep inside the things that I choose to hide still it doesn't stop me from asking myself it gets me farther behind cheaters never prosper I've heard that line but it keeps me set in my ways look me up after you've found out