Pentacle, Walking Upon Damnation's Land

I'm sailing the treacherous seas

While navigating with pain and strength

My light of guidance, the burning eyes, is drawing me towards mortality's end

I'm wondering where this voyage will end

An insane death or glorious revenge

Crowned with knowledge and infinite strength

Adorned with visions of wisdom

Humilated until death's end

Maze of fear, chained in blood,

Swimming in sulphureous streams

Walking upon Damnation's land

Mesmerized by an immortal spell

A roaring sea devours my human shell

Indulging in wisdom unseen

Curse or blessing, yet unknown to me

Into the chaos of a rebellious mind, inhaling the scent, sweet and divine

Aeons of knowledge, cryptic defined, circle within circle, void within the mind

Rising, downfall, untold

Visualize hades, unfold

Tasting the moonblood and see

The gates are opening for thee

Both demons and angels are drinking my blood

Adoring my flesh and naked thoughts

Guiding me to places of ecstacy, excess

Tasting their kisses with an intense respect

"666" - heavenly delight

Numbers are visions in one's mind

"Crucifix" - demonic delight

Objects are tools for a tricky trade

Lurking in the shadows of the winds

Awaiting in the shades of life

The servants of both usurpers are dwelling in my mind

Crawling towards a pale light

Running towards the thrones of might

The path of the "righteous" one

Is my guiding-light

Walking upon Damnation's Land (x's 4)

Damnation!!!
