Pentagram, You're Lost, I'm Free

You've been telling lies that I can see Fairy tales that build inside of me You keep tellin me It's time we both see You're lost yes, I'm free

You've been running wild, but not for me I feel just like a child that cannot see Your voice waking me Saying I should see You're lost, well I'm free

Fade away; I think that somethin' strange is wrong I try to see, but still I feel, you are gone I think I should see When you said to me You're lost, yeah and I'm free Ya know I'm free I'm so free
