Perry Blake, Friend

(you've been whispering again)

Why does it have to have a name? Why does it have to have a name? It's you and i, you and i Love walks a long and lonely road Sticks to the breeze and what it knows It's you and i, you and i

Friend, you've been whispering again Friend, you've been whispering again

Wildflowers grow and call your name Under the moon it stays the same It's you and i, you and i Jump through the fields and kiss the sky Asking the gods forgiveness - why? It's you and i, you and i

Friend, you've been whispering again Friend, you've been whispering again
