

Perry Blake, When I'm Over You

When i'm over you
And when you are over me
As we go on this journey apart and alone
Just another daydream
Just another daydream
Just another day
Just another day to dream
You can now unlock the sadness
If you ever feel the need
Don't you know what turns the planet ?
Sends those shipwrecks back to sea ?
Healing begins when the wounds have been closed
Caution the flowers, these beds may not show
Just another daydream
Just another daydream

When i'm over you
And when you are over me
Will our ghosts be together ?
So peaceful so free...
Just another daydream
Just another day dream
Fading in the moonlight
Fading in the moonlight
I don't see the wind through cold blue eyes
