Perry Como, Lonesome, That's All

It seems like a year since I've seen you dear yet I know it's been only a day yet the hours seem long and the world goes wrong for it's empty with you away . . .

And I wake from each dream of your loveliness, to sink once again into loneliness, and I'd give all the world for just one caress, I'm lonesome, I guess, that's all!

The faces I see don't appear to me for it's your face I long for today, with it's wonderful smile that makes life worthwhile, for it drives all my cares away . . .

And I dream of your lips and your eyes of blue, and wonder if your heart is dreaming too? And my own heart is cryin' the whole day through I'm lonesome, for you, that's all!

Words and Music by Ben J. Bradley and Lee S. Roberts