

Pete Francis, Shake The Pain

roads get heavy lifting my eyes so i can see well the storm is coming clouds charged with electricity i'm burning, burning my love do grow i said i need someone got to come and fill my soul

in the hour of forgiveness
comes a man on his knees
you said love is endless now i'm begging you please

well it's time to shake the pain
time to shake the pain

she don't mind
wasting time with me
all the time
though my heart gets blue i just look to you

i long for sunshine
one big blue sky
i long for moonshine you are my warm light

it's time to shake the pain
