

Peter Bjorn And John, The Chills

Your tongue is sharp but I miss the taste of it

You said time heals there's not enough of it

The lessons are too cruel to keep to lock the door to hide the key

To hear you cast a spell so sweet to still have hours left to sleep

Your fear is crowdin'
And there is still no place for someone
like me to fill

Don't know about luck
but I know the lack of it

Don't know about luck
but I'm losing track of it

The lessons are too cruel to keep
to lock the door to go to sleep

I know that time until it kills You're giving me the chills

Your fear is crowdin'
and there is still
No place
for someone
like me to fill
x2

The lessons are too cruel to keep

and still have hours left to sleep

Your fear is crowdin'
And there is still
no place
for someone
like me to fill

The lessons are too cruel to keep
to lock the door to go to sleep

I know that time until it kills
