

Peter Cetera, She Doesn't Need Me Anymore

Don't know when she started changing
Don't know how it's come to this
Seems like yesterday she was in my arms, begging for a kiss
Now the winds of change are blowin'
And they're taking her away
I will do my best not to hold her back,
But there's nothing more to say

She doesn't need me
She's gonna leave me
She needs some time on her own
I should have told her
Now I can't hold her
Wish it could be like before
But she doesn't need me anymore

It's so hard to watch believe me
It's so hard to be alone
I just hope and pray that there'll come a day,
She'll find the road back home

She doesn't need me
She's gonna leave me
She needs some time on her own
I should have told her
Now I can't hold her
Wish it could be like before
But she doesn't need me anymore

If I pretend to be happy, I'd only be fooling myself
'Cause here in my heart I know that I'm dying
And it's tearing me apart, baby I'm crying

I should have told her
Now I can't hold her
Wish it could be like before
But she doesn't need me now

Wish it could be like before
But she doesn't need me anymore
