

Peter Koppes, Message

I got a message I don't understand
About the people, about the plan
"There is a power and it's in our hands
To stop the world turning to sand";

I've got a message
I've got a message for you
I've got a message
A message for you

I'm wondering why it is and who even cares
Beyond the instinct into the prayers
"It's not the game, it's the way it is played
That we'll take with us when it's all put away";

Welcome to the middle of your mind

I got a message I don't understand
To just exist, make no demands
I'm wondering why it is we know we're alive
When all the rest only need to strive

Welcome to the middle
Welcome to the middle of your mind
