

Phantom Planet, Words You Had Hold Of

This time don't mind it if you go
Cause I'm feeling kind of low and I just wanna be left alone
We said alot of things that night
I guess I'll never get it right
This never works

Because words you had hold of
Ideas you build up
Crumble all around you

You came so unannounced
Like that, good day I give you my high hat.
I hope you're never coming back
You want another go at me
I hope you can finally see
This never works

Because words you had hold of
Ideas you build up
Crumble all around you

You said yourself
I'm like nobody else
And I can tell
There's nothing left
This never works
This never works

Because words you had hold of
Ideas you build up
Crumble all around you

Words you had hold of
Ideas you build up
Crumble all around you

Because you said yourself
I'm like nobody else
Goodbye
