

Phish, I Didn't Know

I didn't know,
I didn't know
Well I didn't like cheeseburger alleycats near me
A petrified Phish disease,
I wish somebody'd hear me
I didn't like maple dew, honey melon watercress
I didn't like Phish shoes down by muddy watermelon
I didn't seem to miss you when you kiss'd my honey water
And even showed a picture, showed her down by honey's border
But who laid silver tooth and broke my sunny shoe shine
And all my plastic melodreams are waiting for their new shine
Pardon me, Doug (pardon me, Doug)
Is this a picture of Otis Redding?
Yes! Yes! Taken right before he died
Well you can give me his hide
(well you can give me his hide)

(I didn't know)

I didn't know that I was that far gone (8x)

Well I woulda' liked to seen Bess Truman come see me and hear all the revolutionaries come free me
'cause if it all ends up running to sneeze me
I'll make it all here, black corners come seize me and if you boom, back got troubles in your ear and you can't seem to come back and make it all clear when eye tails and toe nails and liquid all meet me when mustard pies and carrot eyes and flounders come greet me
(I didn't know)

I didn't know that I was that far gone (8x)
