Pinhead Gunpowder, Second Street

There's a girl who lives on second street, she cries on every time we meet. She's the only girl, I want her to be. On the sidewalks going out tonight, and the street lights make her look just right She's the only girl, I want her to be. And on the darkest nights, she occupies my time. I can't wait for the day to make her, make her mine. Though your window night lite's on again, I pray to God you're not sleeping. Would you save a place in your head for me? And on the darkest nights, she occupies my time.

And on the darkest hights, she occupies my time. I can't wait for the day to make her, make her mine. And i'll tell you that its ok So many things i want to hear you say There's a girl who lives on second street, she cries on every time we meet. She's the only girl, I want her to be. She's the only girl, I want her to be. There's a girl who lives on second street, She's the only girl, I want her to be.
