

Pink Cream 69, Change

You can take my soul
And you can rape my mind
Play the starring role
So thick with fright

You can smash it all
For your own delight
And you can sell it all
For a ticket out of here

You need change
In your life

Let the game begin
For this blatant sin
Money talks for sure
In a world so poor

You need change
But, they want to get you everything
That you need and they wanna...

You can change your rhyme
So it flows with mine
Broken thought's your crime
Dream away, dream away

You could steal a gun
Maybe shot someone
Broken thought's your crime
Yes, I hate to see you smile

You need change
In your life, in your life
You need change
But, they want to get you everything
That you need and they wanna slice all your pride
But you are ready for this crime

You need change
You need change in your life
You need change
You need change in your life

You could steal a gun
Maybe shot someone
Broken thought's your crime
Yes, I hate to see you smile

They want to get you everything
That you need and they wanna slice all your pride
But you are ready for this crime

Change
In your life, in your life
You need change
But, they want to get you everything
That you need and they wanna change you
