

Pink Cream 69, Seas Of Madness (Acoustic Vers

Well the children of tomorrow are knocking down your door
And screaming out the words you heard before
We are living with the sorrow, the pain will be no more
The tide can drag you down or back to shore

I took a ride into the future
It pulled me under and it took my breath away

Seas of madness
The night will guide the way
You're breaking out from this masquerade
Seas of madness
When will they understand?
You've washed away circles in the sand
Circles in the sand

Now you're pulling back the curtains that once concealed your mind
Face the truth you've lived and wasted time
Things are very certain, look and you will find
Years have passed you by 'cause you were blind

I took a ride into the future
It pulled me under and it took my breath away

Seas of madness
The night will guide the way
You're breaking out from this masquerade
Seas of madness
When will they understand?
You've washed away circles in the sand
Circles in the sand

I took a ride into the future
And what it showed me was my past
The ocean waits for my surrender (I surrender)
It pulls me under and it takes my breath away

Seas of madness
The night will guide the way
You're breaking out from this masquerade (this masquerade)
Seas of madness
When will they understand?
You've washed away circles in the sand
Circles in the sand

Circles in the sand
Circles in the sand
