

Pink Cream 69, Speed Of Light

darkness fades to white through the light fantastic never day or night in this false illusion lose all your fears that have held back the years chasing shadows, chasing shadows tonight you're on the info highway change your personality turn yourself into someone that you just pretend to be no trace of where you come from been heard but never seen you don't know where you're going along with the machine braking out through the line, now you're chasing shadows in the night faster than the speed of light let the darkness fade to white faster than speed of light been cruising off into this virtual collective soul no time is wasted with a password you can take control i know you're one of many that knows the time is right could this be self destruction electric dynamite breaking out through the line, now you're

with the new tchnology faster than the eyes can see

run for your life in this paradise roll of a dice & you don't think twice take what you need & you prove your greed so run for your life in this paradise you're on the info highway...
