

Pink Cream 69, Trust The Wiseman

So tired of searching
Deep inside your heart
Asking the question
Where to make a start?

You look in the mirror
Don't like what you see
The face of a stranger
Will never set you free

You're living your life in vein (you're living your life)
But can you forget your shame?

Walk, walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Trust the wiseman in the light

Feel the emotion
Moving through your veins
Deeper devotion
Slowly heals the pain

Use all your wisdom
And fight away your fears
Forget all the darkness
And all those wasted tears

You gave all your life in vain (you gave all your life)
But it can't be the same

Walk, walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Trust the wiseman in the light

Walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the light
Walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the light

Cast away the madness
You could never understand
And listen to the wiseman in your heart

Walk, walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Trust the wiseman in the light

Walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Trust the wiseman

Walk, walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Let the wiseman feed your might

Walk, walk with me to the light
Trust the wiseman in the night
Take my hand, hold on tight
Trust the wiseman when you...

Cast away the madness
You could never understand
And listen to the wiseman in your heart