Pink, Crystal Ball

Drinking wine and thinking bliss Is on the other side of this I just need a compass And a willing accomplice

All my doubts that fill my head Are skidding up and down again Up and down and round again Down and up and round again.

Oh, I've had my chances And I've taken them all Just to end up right back Here on the floor To end up right back Here in on the floor

Pennies in a well, a million dollars In the fountain of a hotel. Fortune teller that says "Maybe you will go to hell" But I'm not scared at all Hmm hmm hmm hmm

The cracks in the crystal The cracks in the crystal ball

Sometimes you think everything Is wrapped inside a diamond ring Love just needs a witness And a little forgivness And a halo of patience And a less sporadic pace and I'm learning to be brave In my beautiful mistakes

Oh I've felt that fire
And I have been burned
But I wouldn't trade the pain
For what I've learned
I wouldn't trade the pain
For what I've learned.

Pennies in a well, a million dollars In the fountain of a hotel. Fortune teller that says "Maybe you will go to hell" But I'm not scared at all Hmm hmm hmm hmm Of the cracks in the crystal The cracks in the crystal ball

Irony, irony
This hate and love
Hate and love
What it does to me
What it's done to me
What is done, done

Pennies in a well, a million dollars In the fountain of a hotel. Broken mirrors and A black cats cold stare Walk under ladders on my way to hell I'll meet you there But I'm not scared at all I'm not scared at all. About the cracks in the crystal The cracks in the crystal ball.
