

Places To Park, Blazing Trails

run this feeling away I'm getting closer with every step I take it'll take all day to find a new one, to find a new way blazing trails away from here, I know I'll never leave every day I hesitate is one more that I'll have to wait every time I choose to stay is the last time I promise myself

I've been trying this for days, a little more time or just a faster pace and how long will this take, long enough to find the way I made

I'm taking everything away